

Americhem Europe Ltd.

Americhem Europe earned the Queen's Award for Enterprise 2007 in the category of International Trade for its growth in exports of its colour and additive concentrates. This success can be attributed to its strategy on development, innovation, quality, and service.

Through continuous improvement and joint development projects with clients, the company brings value to segments, including Packaging, Fibres, Engineering Resins and Additives.

One example is Americhem's introduction of colour to Black & Decker's "Dustbuster," which brought a significant boost in sales to a product with over 20 years in the marketplace.

More recently, Americhem's advanced solid solutions were selected by leading brand owners for their functional performance and superior aesthetics in the packaging of their products.

Americhem Europe Ltd. has been key in the international growth of its parent, Americhem Inc., one of the largest colour and additive masterbatch companies.
