

Americhem Appoints Kilian Lamprecht as Vice President of Mergers & Acquisitions to Accelerate Strategic Growth

Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio March 18, 2026 — Americhem, a global leader in polymer solutions, today announced that Kilian Lamprecht has joined the company as Vice President of Mergers & Acquisitions.

Lamprecht brings extensive experience in corporate development and integration within global industrial and technology organizations. He will work closely with Americhem's executive leadership team and investment partner PPC to identify and execute strategic acquisitions, partnerships and portfolio investments that expand the company's capabilities, product portfolio and geographic reach.

"Americhem has a long history of disciplined growth and innovation in materials science," said John Richard, CEO of Americhem. "With the support of PPC, we are expanding our ability to pursue strategic acquisitions that strengthen our technology platform, broaden our geographic footprint and deepen our presence in key markets. Kilian brings the rigor, global perspective and transaction experience needed to help us identify the right opportunities and integrate them successfully as we accelerate our next phase of growth."

Lamprecht's international background aligns closely with Americhem's global operations. He has lived, studied and worked across North America, Europe and Asia, bringing cross-border experience that supports the company's international growth strategy. He holds a Master of Science in Management from HHL Leipzig Graduate School of Management and completed international studies at Peking University's Guanghua School of Management.

Americhem continues to invest in both organic innovation and strategic acquisitions as it expands its global presence across healthcare, transportation and other advanced materials markets. With the support of PPC, the company is
